

WAGONS

NOW Is the Time To Buy WAGONS

It looks like they are high enough already, but they are BOUND to go HIGHER, and that very soon, unless war conditions suddenly change.

We are selling some of them at the same old price, but have been compelled to advance on some.

If you are going to need a wagon this season, it is our candid judgment that it will pay you to buy soon.

We can sell you a SCHUTTLE, a WEBER, or most any kind of a truck.

OVER THE STATE

Another pathetic little feature of the situation is the treasury department solemnly warning the editors that there is a counterfeit $10 note in circulation.—Galena Republican.

There has been a great deal said lately about early plowing. Of course early plowing is alright but we would not advise the plowing to begin earlier than about four-thirty in the morning.—Spearville News.

Gomer T. Davies of Concordia, owner of the most famous wooden leg in the world, takes considerable pride in the fact that if he ever tries to enlist and is rejected, it will not be because he is "flat footed."

That interesting story about the Kansas dog which came dragging his owner's long lost watch in from the hay field, last week, was remarkable chiefly for the fact that some of the family saw the dog in time to get the watch before he buried it.

Any Kansas town desiring the services of a good cop may engage one at Coffeyville. His Coffeyville job came to an end one day last week after someone stole his star while he was asleep on his beat and mailed the star to the mayor.

Short grass farmers have found a new use for the Ford car, according to gossip from out that way. They back the car up to a prairie dog hole, run a hose from the exhaust into the dugout and asphyxiate the prairie dogs. Extreme care must be taken, however, not to back up too close to the hole, for if the car falls in there is no way to get it out.

If the farmers want better schools and roads, if they desire effective co-operation, better rural credits, better tenant systems, better marketing and distribution methods, more joy and higher citizenship on the farm—they had better get to work and earn it. These things will never come gratuitously from the outside, but only through the initiative of those who are to benefit. Even if it were possible for a magician to supply all these goodies ready made, they would not make the farmer and his family happier.—W. A. Harris.

This story is claimed as original by the Pittsburg Sun: A little boy on West Euclid Avenue had read of how each session of the House of Representatives was opened with prayer by the chaplain. "Dad," he queried, "who does he pray for—the members?" "No," replied Dad, "he looks the members over and then prays for the country."

A Pittsburg bride made some pointed inquiries concerning a curious little hook-shaped article she found on her husband's keyring. He told her it was a typewriter wrench, and according to the Sun, got away with it. Some day she will find a "tin top" in his pocket, and then he'll explain that it is a tap off the typewriter. And he probably won't get away with it.

The other day I was going by a farm in Iowa and I saw a young boy out plowing in the field. I said to him, "What time do you get out in the morning?" He said about 6 o'clock. I said, "What time do you knock off at night?" He said about 6 o'clock. I asked him what he got for working in the sun all day. "Get?" he said; "Get? Nothing if I do, but hell if I don't."—Carl Vrooman.

It has been the custom ever since you can recollect that at this stage of a presidential year the banks refused to make any loans, because, as they alleged, things were uncertain until after the election. Nothing of the sort now, is there? Why? The Republicans say it is because Hughes split his whiskers in the middle and that the Democratic reserve act has nothing to do with it. Good for Hughes!—Ashland Clipper

The spirit of the hour today is co-operation. Co-operation is the belief in an ideal and the willingness to work with others to accomplish the things that the individual alone can not accomplish. Co-operation means consideration of the rights of others and a better understanding of one another. Co-operation is in itself a good every-day religion. When you stop to think of it our entire life is a life of dealing with others and should be a life of helpfulness and co-operation. After all, as has been so truthfully said, "the man you do not like is the man you do not know." No matter how great a man's ability, no matter how persistent his purpose, how rich his possessions, how strong his will, no great accomplishment can be effected without the co-operation of others.—D. H. Jenkins.

CONTEMPORARY COMMENT

Judge Detwiler has set a precedent and in law precedents are always followed you know. The judge decided it would cost a man $100 and thirty days in jail to whip his wife. Any masculine reader of the Herald desiring to indulge in this form of amusement had better first ascertain that they are out of the confines of Judge Detwiler's jurisdiction.—Beaver Herald.

And then we wonder why we can't get them. A farmer living in this neighborhood lost his harvest crew recently and was wanting more harvest hands; a Coats citizen who happened to be in Pratt on business a day or so later accidentally ran onto some men wanting work and thinking to confer a favor on his farmer friend he took three of the boys in his car and brought them to Coats and out to the farmer's house, and we are told that while it was nothing in the world to him, he had to bear the expense of the trip and upon finding he had no gas paid twenty-five cents for a gallon from the man to whom he had just brought the hands.—Coats Courant.

Talk about the auto and motorcycle supplanting the horse, if you take a drive over Pratt county these days when the good horses are turned out to graze you would not think that anything has taken the place of the horse. There are a lot of them in the county and a good thing in that line is that they are good ones on every farm. It was the general remark of our party last Sunday that the scrub horse on a farm was an exception. Then the fine looking milk cows were just as conspicuous as the good horses. A good farmer advertises himself well when he shows a fine lot of horses and cattle on the farm. The hog is not so conspicuous but we note that there are a lot of good ones.—Pratt Union.

A man reported lost in the tall weeds near the stand pipes in the north part of town caused some anxiety Monday morning, but later it was learned that the report was given to impress the city commissioners with the need for weed cutting in that locality. . . . A young man, a harvester, working in the north part of the county, was robbed of his wages Monday, the day that he drew his money from the bank. He stated that he came here from Cincinnati and that the amount he earned here was the first pay he had ever received for work as he had been working for his father until just before he came out here. He lost about $50.—Pratt Tribune.

T. M. McQueen received the information the first of the week that his race horse, Jack Rambler, had died at Woodward, Oklahoma. The horse had won second money in the afternoon, and died sometime during the night. The horse was a valuable one, and his loss is a heavy one to Mr. McQueen. . . . Most of the Meade county farmers are rejoicing over the fact that harvest is again over, that in spite of dry weather in the early part of the season, and later hail, they have again been favored with a bountiful crop. Some have already commenced threshing, and both the yield and the quality are good, while others have not yet finished cutting.—Meade News.

Garden City has again been favored with an appointment to the naval academy by Senator Thompson. He has selected George A. Carroll for the academy and the young man will take the examination July 27th and if successful he will be admitted to the academy immediately. Senator Thompson thinks there is no reason why there should not be an Admiral Carroll in due time. The government expends $15,000 toward the education of each graduate from this institution and the young men who get through are splendidly equipped for the future, should they care to remain in the service. The boys are allowed $800 per year for expenses while in the academy. Senator Thompson has been very liberal toward his home town boys in matters of this kind and it is safe to say that if there is an applicant from here qualified for an appointment of this kind he will get it when the opening occurs. We hope our boys who are desirous of such appointments will get in touch with the Senator and secure full information about them. . . . Enough booze has come to Garden City in the past week to drown the whole Mexican army. As the liquor comes addressed to private individuals, there is no way to stop it until congress passes a law prohibiting the shipment of liquor into prohibition states.—Garden City Herald.

TO WARON HOPPERS

Prof. Dean of the Agricultural College Urges Farmers to Begin Now.

TIME FOR MIGRATION IS NEAR

Poisoned Bran Mash is Recommended as Most Effective and Practical Method of Control.

With the wheat harvest well along and the time for the migration of grasshoppers near, George A. Dean, entomologist at the Kansas State Agricultural college, has issued a warning to farmers to begin war on the grasshoppers. During the last three years poisoned bran mash has been found so effective that the experiment station at the college recommends it as the most effective and practical method of control. The following formula was given by Professor Dean:

"The bran mash is made of bran, twenty pounds; Paris green, white arsenic or London purple, one pound; syrup, two quarts; oranges or lemons, three; water three and one-half gallons. Paris green is preferred to the other poisons, but the price is high and it may be well to substitute white arsenic or London purple.

"In preparing the bran mash, mix the bran and the poison dry in a washtub. Squeeze the juice of the oranges or lemons into the water, and chop the remaining pulp and the peel to fine bits and add them to the water. Dissolve the syrup in the water and wet the bran and poison with the mixture, stirring it at the same time in order to dampen the mash thoroughly.

"The damp mash, or bait, should be sown broadcast in the infested area early in the morning. This amount of bait or mash should cover four or five acres."

Oil Near Pleasanton.—Prof. A. C. Terrill of the University of Kansas inspected the lead prospect shaft two miles southeast of Pleasanton and reported the mine rich in both lead and oil. Prospectors are here making leases and there is every indication of a boom.

Prof. H. A. Mills Resigns.—Professor Harry A. Mills, instructor in economics at the University of Kansas, has announced his resignation to accept a professorship in the department of economics in Chicago university.

Boy Drowns in River.—Everett Edwards, 6-year-old son of William Edwards, was drowned in the Missouri river at Atchison recently. The boy could not swim. He and his sister were wading and got beyond their depth, but the little girl was rescued.

A Harvester at 60.—Although August Requist, 60 years old, of Trenton, Mo., owns a 160-acre farm near Trenton, he is working for $4 a day in the harvest fields near Salina.

Dead From Pellagra.—Mrs. W. T. Vest, wife of the postmaster at Pond Creek, Ok., died of pellagra in a Wichita hospital, twelve hours after being brought there. She was 40 years old.

Goff Man a Suicide.—W. E. Coffelt of the Goff Telephone Company committed suicide recently by drinking an ounce of carbolic acid.

Free Poison for Farmers.—Logan county officials at Oakley have decided to furnish free poison to farmers to fight the grasshopper plague. Clouds of grasshoppers are doing great injury to growing crops.

Child Dies of Paralysis.—Byron Nichols, the 3-year-old son of Harry Nichols, who was stricken with infantile paralysis recently, is dead at Winfield.

Accidentally Shoots Mother.—Mrs. Frank Chambers, who lives southeast of Winfield, was accidentally shot and probably fatally wounded by her 6-year-old son recently. The boy took a rifle from a buggy in the yard of the Chambers home and playfully pointed it at his mother. The gun was discharged, the bullet entering Mrs. Chambers' left breast just above the heart.

$1,000 for Soldier Relief.—Salina's war relief fund, which will be used to assist the families of married men of the local militia company, has reached nearly $1,000. Company M has sixteen married members.

Smallpox Near Horton.—Smallpox has appeared in two Atchison county households south of Horton. There are nine cases in the home of Mrs. Ida Walls and two in M. U. Cusick's home.

Lightning Kills.—Frank Scantlin of Kansas City was struck and instantly killed by lightning on the farm of Bing Lessor, five miles northwest of Lincoln, the other night. Dora Pierce of Lincoln was dangerously injured by the bolt.

Victim of Runaway Dies.—James R. Green, a farmer who lived five miles north of Winfield, is dead in a Winfield hospital. Green was found unconscious in his pasture after a runaway accident. He never regained consciousness.
